Cougars Clobber Rivals, Snatch WAC Golf Crown

Brigham Young University's undefeated golf team, fresh from a whopping triumph over Western Athletic Conference foes in the league finale last weekend, hope to earn more medals next month at the NCAA Regionals at Stanford.

THE WAC championship meet, held at the Provo Riverside Country Club, was all BYU at the Cougar golfers set new conference records in team score for 36 and 54 holes.

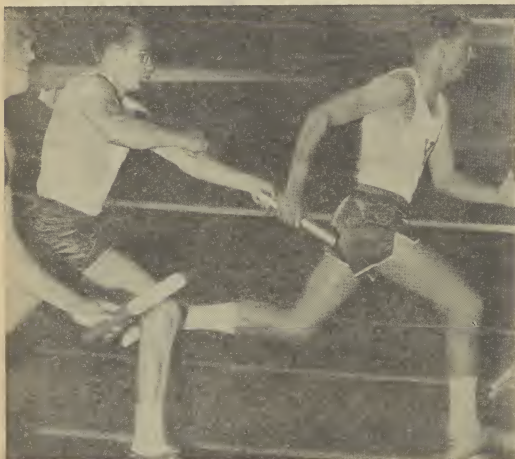

The Cougars scored 845 in the meet, 24 strokes ahead of second place New Mexico, the defending champion.

THE LOBOS had 869, Arizona State 871, Utah 879, Wyoming 915, and Arizona 921.

All five of BYU's divoters finished under par, and the 19-under-par team total was more than good enough to win the conference trophy, the first time for any WAC team but New Mexico.

UTAH'S BRUCE Summerhays, two strokes behind the Lobos' Ralph Coker going into Saturday's final 18 holes, fired a 70 to snatch the individual title from the defending champ. Summerhays was runner-up in 1965.

Brigham Young Coach Karl Tucker was all smiles Saturday following the meet as he contemplated the victory and a future which will see all of his fine crop of golfers return to defend their crown.

Flawless baton handling in the 440 relay assisted BYU to a rather unexpected first place in that event and a new record, shaving a tenth of a second off the old mark. Here Dave Reeves and Gary Thacker complete the first pass.

BYU Netters Claim First Conference Championship

University of Utah's defending champion tennis team captured the No. 1 singles and doubles in the Western Athletic Conference finals at Provo last Saturday, but BYU's overall team strength won the championship trophy for the Cougars.

REDSKIN JIM Osborne successfully defended his No. 1 singles title and teamed with Mike Marlines to win the No. 1 doubles, but BYU won the meet, 26-17.

Arizona was third with 13, followed by New Mexico with 9, Wyoming, 4 and Arizona State, 0.

OSBORNE defeated Brigham Young's Bill Fort, 6-2, 6-2 but Terry Ehlers won the No. 3 singles for Brigham Young from New Mexico's Tony Bull, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1.

BYU's No. 6 man, Sima Nikolic, was the only other singles winner for the Cougars, downing Arizona's Jerry Hopkins, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4.

IN THE doubles competition, Osborne and Marlines were victorious over Dean Penero and Robyn Ray of Arizona, but BYU's John Pierce and Keith Nielson defeated Bull and Ted Russell of the Lobos and Harvey Bottleson and Nikolic beat Wyoming's Mike Adams and Tor Bryhn in straight sets.

The No. 5 singles match was a dandy. It took Ute Harold Sears 3½ hours to put down BYU's Glen Nielson, 12-6, 7-4, 6-2.

COACH WAYNE Pearce takes his triumphant netters to the NCAA Regional meet next month.

BYU's court stars ended the season with a 9-2 slate; the Cougars have never won the conference crown—they finished third in 1965.

The new records in the running events might be called stopwatch marks, shaving fractions of a second off the existing marks. New records are on the clock—old outside.

It took a long time, but BYU finally brought in a conference tennis champion. In a marathon set, Harv Bottleson and Sima Nikolic defeated Wyoming's Mike Adams and Tor Bryhn (here) in a 12-10 set to earn their way into the conference finals.
